5.0 Security Information

To ensure security of information and all other information or personal data, the Website uses a technology called SSL (Secure Socket Layer). SSL encrypts all communications between User computer and FIU server so that the information can only be read and understood by FIU. A closed lock in the bottom corner of User browser window shows a secure connection. User can consult browser’s security specifications for further information.

The common standard in the Internet to signal a secure site is a closed lock at the bottom of the browser. As long as the lock is displayed closed User information is secured and encrypted to avoid abuse. To check that User has a secure connection (in Internet Explorer), click the right mouse button and properties, then certificates. Then User will see if the connection is secure or not.
